Dewey-Humboldt Library News!

Come out of the cold and go to YOUR library. We have a lot of great activities in January.

The Library's Movies for Grownups this month is The Martian on Tuesday, January 26: 5:30 - 8:30pm (please note the early start time). This movie, based on the book by Andy Weir, centers around an expedition to Mars. Astronaut Mark Watney (played by Matt Damon), apparently dies in an accident and is left behind as the team leaves Mars. As they travel back to Earth, they find out he is still alive. Mark struggles to find a way to survive alone on Mars, while hoping beyond hope to be rescued. The movie has spectacular acting, special effects, and scientific accuracy. Don't miss out! Please register for this fun movie in advance by calling 632-5049. Refreshments will be served.

The Dewey-Humboldt IONS group will meet on

NEWS FROM TOWN HALL

In December, the Town council recognized 4 employees for their tenured services. Judy Morgan, Town Clerk, has been employed by the Town for 10 years. She was first hired as the Town's Administrative Assistant in December 2005. Judy is the longest serving employee in the Town's 11 year municipal history. Catherine Kelley, Town Magistrate, has been with the Town for 6 years. Therese Christopher, Court Clerk, has been with the Town for 5 years. Ed Hanks, Town Public Works Supervisor, has worked 5 years for the Town. Ed was initially hired in September 2010 as the Equipment Operator. Please join us in congratulating these long term employees for reaching their career milestones and thanking them for their services.

The Community Survey has arrived and your input is needed.

As reported in the last issue of the newsletter, the Town is conducting a community survey in December, January, and February. The survey will be conducted by Yavapai College's Regional Economic Development Center using multiple approaches.

1500 survey questionnaires will be mailed out. The survey will also be available at town hall. YCREDC staff also plan to appear at the Town Library to conduct the survey.

Your input is valued and appreciated. The Mayor and Town Council respect the opinions and needs of the citizenry and want to hear your voice so that they may better serve the Town as it moves into an increasingly complex future. The Town of Dewey-Humboldt needs your input to create a path for prosperity and to maintain the quality of life that is valued by its citizens. Thank you for your time and consideration with this project.

For questions regarding the survey, please contact Alex Wright, YCREDC Director, at 928-776-2378 or Yvonne Kimball, Town Manager, at 928-632-7362.

Free Private Well-Water Testing!

The Town of Dewey-Humboldt is offering to Residents of the Town, free testing of drinking water samples from local Residents' well systems.

While they last, sample bottles can be obtained at Town Hall from 8:00am till 12:00pm, February 8th through 11th, 2016. Residents are encouraged to return the filled bottles the day they are picked up, but they must be returned by 12:00 pm on February 11, 2016 in order to be transported to Nortest Analytical Laboratories in Flagstaff for testing. Nortest Laboratories will return their results directly to participating Residents.

Drinking Water Testing Includes: Copper, Lead, and Arsenic

RSVP to Steven Brown at (928) 632-7362 to reserve your sample kit NOW, indicating the day you will pick up the kit.

A traffic light at the intersection of Main St. and SR 69 is coming in 2016.

As many of us recall there were more than one fatalities at or near the intersection of Main St. and Hwy 69 in the last few years. Dewey-Humboldt Community Members have been working for a number of years with Arizona Department of Transportation (ADOT) to have a traffic signal light installed at that intersection.

The plea for a light went on with no success until in 2012, when the then Town Council unanimously voted to pursue a traffic light. This time around, the effort by Town Elected Officials and Staff generated promising results.

After tireless persuasion efforts by Town Officials, 2013 ADOT agreed to conduct a traffic count study to determine whether the intersection met the count requirement. In 2014 ADOT's study found that the intersection meets the required traffic counts standard for a light to be installed. Shortly

Survey—Continued from page 1 after the study, the Town was able to secure funding for the light utilizing Highway Safety Funds that are disbursed through Central Yavapai Metropolitan Planning Organization (CYMPO) and ADOT. The total project cost is estimated to be $344,000 including the traffic study, the design, the bid administration, and the construction phases. This project is entirely funded by federal and state funds.

After CYMPO approved the funding details in June 2015, ADOT and the Town entered into a maintenance agreement for the future light. ADOT in-house engineers completed the design of the light in November 2015 and prepared the bid packet and project specifications for advertisement in December. The construction is expected to begin in the first quarter of 2016. The community can expect its completion by June 2016.

It is the Town's hope that this long-awaited light would reduce accidents and make a safer entry to and from Highway 69 and Main St. Local businesses also hope that the light would help increase foot-traffic and commerce.

This has truly been a community effort. Many past and present Town Council Members and citizens have been instrumental in leading the process through today's progress.

The Town's involvement with CYMPO has also aided in gaining the approval for the light and its funding. Town of Dewey-Humboldt has been a CYMPO member since October 2009, and several Town Officials have represented the Town at CYMPO meetings. If you are interested in CYMPO's projects, which primarily are of a regional impact, please visit their website www.cympo.org or call Ed Hanks, at 632-7362.

Sandbags available to prevent winter flooding:

According to this year's El-Nino winter forecast, flooding may occur. Yavapai County Emergency Management and Flood Control has purchased additional sandbags. When flooding is forecast or begins to occur and you have a need for sandbags, you can pick them up at the Yavapai County Public Works Yard, 1100

Commerce Drive, or at Central Yavapai Fire Station. You will need to bring a shovel to fill your own bags. Additional information is available at the Yavapai County website or call Yavapai Emergency Management at 928-771-3321.

COMING EVENTS: SUPER BOWL SUNDAY – FEBRUARY 7, 2016

January 5: 10:30am – 12:30pm. Special guest speaker Ashley Brothers, from Sedona, will talk about Shamanism. In Ms. Brothers's own words, "It changed my life from one of pain and misery to one of beauty and joy. I won't say my life was easy though. I suffered years of illness and almost died, but not only did it save my life, it also helped me cope and find a way to cure a disease that is rare and usually requires chemotherapy to fix. I've trained in Peruvian Shamanism, Lakota traditions, and core shamanism from cultures throughout the world." The IONS meetings are open to all points of view. Visitors are welcome!

The library will have Afternoon Story Time with Ms. Maizie on Tuesday, January 26: 1:00-1:45pm. Geared for preschool and Kindergarten-age kids, this fun activity will help children in reading and learning concepts. We have winter themed books planned for the little ones this month! Parents must stay with their children during this fun event.

The library has a brand new program, Fans of Cultdom, for Saturday afternoons, from 1:00 – 3:30pm. We will enjoy movies and TV shows from a variety of different genres including science fiction, action, suspense, mystery, horror, and comedy. On January 9, join us for the brand new 2015 Doctor Who Christmas special. January 16, we will be showing the 2016 New Year's Day Sherlock special. January 23 will see a classic Mystery Science Theater 3000 episode. And starting on January 30, we will be airing the brand new episodes of The X-Files. We have some great ideas for later in the year. Refreshments will be served.

The library's Book Discussion Group will meet on Tuesday, January 12: 9:30 – 10:45am to discuss The Thirteenth Tale, by Diane Setterfield. This spooky story is about Margaret Lea, the daughter of a London bookseller, who is contacted by renowned, aging author Vida Winter. Margaret travels to Yorkshire to interview Vida about her estate, a governess, abandoned babies, a ghost, and more. Good reading for cold winter nights! Come in to the library to pick up a copy of the book, and then come for the discussion. There will be light refreshments.

The library will offer Computer Basics 101, a two-part class which will instruct students on basic concepts of using a computer, offer practice in using the keyboard and the mouse, and teach basic computer terminology. The class will be offered on Wednesdays,

LUCKY FOODS for the NEW YEAR

From the Editor's desk

For many, January 1 offers an opportunity to forget the past and make a clean start. But instead of leaving everything up to fate, why not enjoy a meal to increase your good fortune? Traditions vary from culture to culture but there are a variety of foods that are believed to be lucky and to improve the odds that next year will be a great one. The six major categories of auspicious foods are:

GRAPES: For most, the goal is to swallow all the grapes before the last stroke of midnight, but Peruvians insist on taking in a 13th grape for good measure.

COOKED GREENS: Cooked greens, including cabbage, collards, kale, and chard, are consumed at New Year's in different countries for a simple reason — their green leaves look like folded money, and are thus symbolic of economic fortune.

LEGUMES: Include beans, peas, and lentils are also symbolic of money. Their small, seed-like appearance resembles coins that swell when cooked so they are consumed with financial rewards in mind.

PORK: The custom of eating pork on New Year's is based on the idea that pigs symbolize progress. The animal pushes forward, rooting itself in the ground before moving.

FISH: Cod has been a popular feast food since the Middle Ages.

CAKES, ETC: Cakes and other baked goods are commonly served from Christmas to New Year's around the world, with a special emphasis placed on round or ring-shaped items.

WHAT NOT TO EAT: In addition to the aforementioned lucky foods, there are also a few to avoid. Lobster, for instance, is a bad idea because they move backwards and could therefore lead to setbacks. Chicken is also discouraged because the bird scratches backwards, which could cause regret or dwelling on the past. Another theory warns against eating any winged fowl because good luck could fly away.

Now that you know what to eat, there's one more superstition—that is, guideline—to keep in mind. In Germany, it's customary to leave a little bit of each food on your plate past midnight to guarantee a stocked pantry in the New Year. Likewise in the Philippines, it's important to have food on the table at midnight. The conclusion? Eat as much lucky food as you can, just don't get too greedy—or the first place you'll be going in the new year is the gym.

Editor Denise Rogers wishes everyone a happy and healthy New Year!
